

"New Thing"

Team Record 4-5

The Lions 68 vs. Hickory Grove 81

"Practice Equals Game Time"

The Lions played with no fear throughout the entire game and came up short. However, in the process they answered many questions that their Coaches have pondered on several occasions. One of them was, "Can the Lions play with any team in this conference, holding their own on defense and offense?" This question was answered with a big "Yes". Another question concerned whether the guard play of the Lions is disciplined enough to demonstrate the leadership and communication skills needed in adverse situations. The answer is yes. As their coach took a seat and let his champions begin to lead as such, much fruit was produced. Building champions by faith and determination is the driving force to sustain the will to win. Considering the loss, the Lions need to focus more on the details in game situations and practice preparation to ensure their success on the court as well as off the court. They need stay committed to following the game plan, without mishaps. If the Lions desire to move to the next level, which is to be defensive minded at all times, they really need to be sold out on defense at all times. At this point the team is playing not to lose on offense. This results in a soft defense. True Champions go as hard as they can for as long as they can. This team motto will sustain them in the battles ahead because the greatest challenge is yet to come. The Lions are a team of destiny and playing with a conquering spirit will seal their identity as a great team.
