

“New Thing” Team Record 5-7
Southlake Tournament
The Lions 65 vs. Covenant Classical 58
"Practice Equals Game Time"

This game tested the Lion’s will to win. While they were able to pull off the win, the Lions gave up too many lay-ups and on defense they did too much reaching with their hands instead of moving their feet. This type of defense allowed their opponent to remain in the game until the very end. Although the Lions are the defending Champions of this tournament, it would behoove them to wake up and play their self-destructive defense the entire game. Also, the Lions need to point their man out on defense, like great defensive teams do!

The team cannot afford to show up and play with a lack luster attitude. Playing down to their competitor’s level is not an option. The Lions are a solid team with a great future, which will only be achieved by playing stellar defense one game at a time. The Lions are on the verge of greatness and their coaches have faith in their players’ abilities and athletic prowess. So, the Lions need to wake up and take what belongs to them, starting with this Championship.

Perhaps by winning this championship the Lions will grasp more fully their team mottos: “Champions are on the same page” and “discipline brings about winning”. Yes, this game will speak volumes about their courage, confidence, and character. Hopefully, they will respond by playing their desperation defense and self-destructive defense throughout the entire game, which should erase any doubt in their minds about their identity. So, Lions bring it on and press and reach for higher ground.

Listed below are the offensive and defensive players of the game, along with the individual scores.
